15th April 2008

Dear Parents

You are probably aware that there is a teachers strike planned for 24th April 2008. However, the strike action is being carried out by only one teacher union- the NUT. The other teacher unions are not involved.

As there are no members of the Nut at St Benedict's, our school will be unaffected, thus the school will be open as usual.

You will probably also be aware that the school had, what is called a Section 48 RE Inspection carried out earlier this year. The inspection report along with the recent OFSTED report will be available shortly on our website- www.stbenedictsonline.co.uk. If however you require a hard copy please let us know and we will be happy to supply you with one.

Changing the subject completely, your support for the upcoming Chocolate Bingo would be appreciated both on this Friday through sending in chocolate donations; and next Friday on the actual Bingo night.

Could I also please encourage you to support the fair trade chocolate companies as we know this helps poorer farmers in developing nations.

Thank you for your time and continuing support and huge thanks to the FOSBA organising committee for their unselfish enthusiasm and commitment.

Yours sincerely

M Hammond
Headteacher
